

Epiphany: The Work of Christmas

In the United Methodist Church, the Season of Epiphany begins just after Christmas, around January 6, and invites us to linger with a holy question: What does it mean that God has been made known to the world in Jesus Christ? The word epiphany comes from the Greek epiphania, meaning appearance or manifestation. At its heart, this season celebrates revelation, God showing God's own self to us.

Christians often name Jesus' birth as the most significant epiphany of all. In Christ, God does not remain distant or abstract but steps fully into human life; God tabernacles with us. As Jesus himself says, "Whoever has seen me has seen the Father." In his life, teachings, compassion, and sacrifice, we glimpse the very heart of God. Epiphany reminds us that God's light is not hidden or reserved for a few; God's light is revealed openly, generously, and for the sake of the whole world.

In the UMC tradition, Epiphany is not only about seeing this light of God; it is about responding to it together. The season begins with the visit of the Magi, outsiders who recognize God's glory shining beyond familiar boundaries in the form of a unique star. It continues through Jesus' baptism, where God's love is named aloud, and Jesus' ministry begins. From there, Epiphany leads us into the Season of Lent, framed by the Festivals of the Baptism of the Lord and the Transfiguration. Epiphany invites us to grow into lives shaped by our baptismal promises and guided by the Holy Spirit.

The Wesleyan Way understands faith as deeply communal. John Wesley famously insisted that "there is no holiness but social holiness," meaning that God's grace always moves us outward—towards our neighbor, toward justice, toward a shared life. In this way, Epiphany is not a private spiritual insight but a communal event. Significantly, we understand moving outward as not only directly related to humanity, but also to how humanity receives and cares for God's gift of eternal life. God's light is revealed among us so that we might reflect it together, as individuals, as a congregation, and as a people shaped by love in action.

Howard Thurman, the great Christian mystic and spiritual guide, spoke of Epiphany as the moment when the celebration of Christmas gives way to responsibility. Once the song fades and the decorations are put away, the real work begins: living into God's dream of justice, reconciliation, and peace. Epiphany invites us to carry the light we have seen into a world aching for hope, walking in despair, so that God's love is experienced.

As Morrisville UMC enters this season, we do so not simply as observers of Jesus' ministry, but as participants in it. Epiphany prepares us for discipleship—renewing our baptismal covenant, deepening our faith, and reminding us that God's revelation is meant to be embodied in our shared life. May this season help us recognize Christ among us and empower us, together, to continue the work of Christmas long after the tree, the lights, the wreaths are gone, and long after the last evidence of shredded gift wrap is found in the carpets.

That's the work of Christmas.

Grace and peace,

Pastor K

FINANCE COMMITTEE UPDATE

Happy New Year! I have Good Tax News! For those who DO NOT Itemize, the new tax law allows people to deduct up to $2,000 of Charitable Contributions from their 2026 Income before Taxes are computed. This means someone filing as an individual can deduct up to $1,000 from their income and a couple filing jointly can deduct up to $2,000 from their income before taxes are computed. So, please keep track of your charitable contributions next year, especially to MUMC, because they will help you with your taxes when you file in 2027.

In Christ,

LATINO MINISTRY DIRECTOR AND FAMILY

LATINO MINISTRY Happy New Year and blessings to everyone. My family and I wanted to express our gratitude and thank God for the blessings to serve in a church full of love and intentions for our Latino Community. This is amazing! We were able to serve many families for Thanksgiving, together with our food pantry, ESL, and IFA. For Christmas we serve about 80 kids only within the Latino Ministry in addition of Food bank, IFA. With the support of our members and Toys for Tots. There were many happy children. Thank you, Morrisville United Methodist Church!

Familia Cadillo appreciates everyone that has supported the Latino Ministry.
